

Ambassador's remarks at Conferment Ceremony in honor of Dr. Suad Al-Mudhaffar
2026.1.21@ Crowne Plaza Muscat Hotel

H.E. Mohammed bin Ali Al Khusaibi, Excellencies, Honorables, distinguished guests,
Assalamu alaikum.

It is a true pleasure and a great honor to be with you this evening to celebrate Dr. Suad Al-Mudhaffar, who has received the Order of the Rising Sun, Gold Rays with Rosette, bestowed by His Majesty the Emperor of Japan. Sharing this special occasion with so many distinguished guests makes it even more meaningful, as each of you has, in your own way, been part of Dr. Suad's remarkable journey.

On occasions such as this, it is customary for an ambassador to carefully list the recipient's achievements. However, Dr. Suad's contributions speak for themselves. Her dedication and lifelong commitment have left a lasting impact on the friendship between Japan and Oman, and I consider myself truly honored to be among those who have witnessed her impact firsthand.

I first met Dr. Suad at an iftar dinner she graciously hosted last March. What remains most vivid in my memory is the warmth that surrounded her - the joyful atmosphere, the genuine smiles, and the many friends who gathered simply to see her and enjoy conversation late into the night. In that moment, it was easy to see how deeply she is respected and loved by all around her.

This admiration reflects her lifelong journey, including her role as the founder and former principal of Azzan Bin Qais Private School, as well as her vital contributions to cultural and educational initiatives for younger generations, such as the Student Forum.

I firmly believe that Dr. Suad's charming personality and inspiring character will continue to bring Japanese and Omani people closer together, strengthening the bonds of friendship between our two nations. I am personally one of her great admirers, and I feel truly privileged to host this ceremony in her honor during my time here.

In closing, I would like to extend my heartfelt wishes for the continued well-being and prosperity of His Majesty Sultan Haitham Bin Tarik. I also wish everyone here good health, happiness, and a very pleasant evening.

Thank you. Shukran Jazeelan.
